OFFICER ADMITS MONEY WAS STOLEN

Unknown Thief Secured Sum From St. Helena Station Office.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., July 10.—Lieutenant Chadwick, executive officer of the receiving ship Franklin, in a statement confirms the report that an unknown thief secured an entrance into the iron safe in the pay office of the St. Helena Station some time during Thursday night, securing an amount of money not stipulated.

According to Lieutenant Chadwick, the job was a neat one, evidencing that the thief is an expert in handling safe locks, and that it was opened by manipulation. It is also declared by the same officer that the sum secured was not as much as $5,000. He declines to say how much was secured, leaving that portion of the story to be announced from Washington.

There is no clue to the perpetrator of the robbery, although everybody connected with the office or seen about the premises has been virtually given the third degree during the investigation of Friday night and Saturday. It is also admitted that the guard who sleeps in the office was not on his post; that he is in the brig of the ship and will be court-martialed. He cleared his skirts, however, by showing where he was. The charge against him is dereliction of duty.

"The question is," said Lieutenant Chadwick, in speaking of the robbery, "who is the safe cracker? There are 1,623 men on this ship, and there is no doubt one of that number is the guilty man. Up to this time, however, we have absolutely no clue to work on and no arrests have been made."

The investigation that will follow the robbery of the safe is expected to cause a distinct sensation in naval circles. Just how or why a safe on board the Franklin could be robbed, with over 1,600 men on board, and over 2,000 on shore, within a stone's throw of the ship, without any one being the wiser, is a mystery that the Navy Department will try hard to solve.

The robbery must have been committed right under the nose of the officer of the deck, whose business it is to be on duty, and there were men on guard at various other parts of the vessel.

The fact that the safe could be cracked, the money taken, and no clue left behind, where so many men are stationed, is regarded as one of the strangest robberies the navy has ever known.

CAMPERS ENJOYING LIFE.

Y. M. C. A. Party on Outing—Sunday Will Be Quietly Observed.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Camp Richmond, Carysbrook, Va., July 10.—Camp Richmond, composed of a number of members of the Y. M. C. A. of Richmond, is in full swing, and life on the camp ground is anything but dull. The main body of campers arrived Friday afternoon from the capital city, and they found everything in readiness for their reception. The advance guard had labored faithfully, and tents and bunks were all in position. A fine old Virginia supper was awaiting the campers, and the newcomers expressed their delight at the arrangements.

Sunday was a quiet day in camp, with a service in the morning and a twilight song service in the evening. Camp leaders and assistants have been appointed as follows: Tent No. 1, F. Padgett, Jr., and C. C. Webb; tent 2—W. E. Word, Jr., and F. M. Bradbury; tent 3—B. D. Core and R. Dunning; tent 4—L. H. Cosby and P. G. Hamlin. These leaders and assistants, together with the camp managers, form the camp council.

Seventieth Birthday.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Drewry was a daughter of Dr. Charles MacGill, a Marylander who rendered valuable service to the Confederacy as a surgeon during the Civil War. Although having attained the allotted three score and ten years, Mrs. Drewry is in the best of health. She is a typical Southern woman, and noted for her graciousness as a hostess. Among those coming from a distance to attend Mrs. Drewry's anniversary will be Mr. and Mrs. Deane and family, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. Ogden and family, of New Orleans; Mrs. Bertrand and children, of Richmond; Mrs. Rosenberg, of Galveston, Tex.; Mrs. Charles MacGill, of Maryland; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bridges, of Ashland, and General James MacGill, of Forest Depot, who formerly lived in Pulaski.

ACTION IS DISMISSED.

Suit Was for Failure to Maintain Proper Schedules on Ferry.
Norfolk, Va., July 10.—Judge Martin, in the Court of Law and Chancery, yesterday dismissed an action for $100,000 brought originally by the city of Portsmouth and the county of Norfolk jointly against R. E. Jordan, lessee of the Portsmouth and Norfolk county ferries, and of the Empire State Company, of New York, for alleged failure to maintain proper schedules under his lease. Portsmouth city repudiated the suit, and the court held Norfolk county

LABORERS WANT HIGHER WAGES

They Are Quitting Work to Enforce Demands on the Southern.

CITIZENS PROTEST

They Ask Enlarged Scheme of Improvement for Union Station.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Raleigh, N. C., July 10.—The Southern Railway Company is having some trouble with its laborers on this division for the work directed by the section masters. The company has for quite a while been paying $1 a day for the ordinary labor. The demand is for $1.50. About 100 men have quit work on the division, but the railroad people have had little trouble in filling their places, so that the trouble has scarcely assumed the proportions of a strike. The division extends from Goldsboro to Spencer, with branch roads.

The high school committee for the Wake County public high school, the most important high school in the rural sections of Wake county, has employed Professor Stanford Martin as principal.

Newspaper reports of the Sixth Judicial District convention at Smithfield credited Charles U. Harris, of this city, with declaring that he is still in favor of the Democratic primary system. This is a mistake. Mr. Harris really declared his opposition to the primaries, endorsing the view expressed in the convention by Ed. S. Abell, who declared that if continued they would disrupt the party.

Citizens Protest.
The Corporation Commission devoted nearly all of Saturday to hearing evidence as to the fight that certain citizens of Raleigh are making against the $15,000 improvements on the union passenger station here, the contention being that there should be greater enlargement of the building and the addition of space for additional track for the train sheds. Quite a number of witnesses were examined as to the growth of the passenger business in Raleigh the past few years, and to prove that the changes in progress would be inadequate. H. W. Miller, assistant to Vice-President A. B. Andrews, testified at length, asserting that Raleigh would have the largest waiting-room of any station in the State. He gave figures as to April business in a number of the principal towns of the State which showed 462 for Raleigh, 620 in Charlotte, 356 for Asheville (not including round trip tickets), 296 for Salisbury, 702 for Greensboro, 197 for Durham. These figures are a safe average in the opinion of Mr. Miller.

Mr. Miller intimated, too, that the railroad contemplated inclosing a concourse that would add 350 to the waiting-room capacity when it became necessary. The commission is to hear arguments by counsel later. However, in the meantime the work on the improvements that are being protested against by the petitioning citizens, is going forward rapidly.

Hon. J. M. Young State Insurance Commissioner, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address in Charleston next Wednesday before the Association of Hardware Dealers for the two Carolinas. He will talk of fire insurance as it relates to the insurance of hardware stores.

Dr. Jno. A. Ferrall, assistant secretary of the State Board of Health, who has charge of the campaign for the eradication of the hookworm disease, has completed arrangements for the men of the Third Regiment in camp at Morehead this week to be examined for the presence of hookworm. Some exceptionally valuable statistics bearing on the prevalence of the disease among grownup people are expected. It is pointed out that some of the colleges of the State showed more than 50 per cent. of infection among the students.

Members of the North Carolina Corporation Commission say that they do not care to express any opinion on the recent decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the "Pin-Ston" case, a Durham case, involving long haul freight rates to North Carolina points and the Virginia city rates until they have opportunity to study the opinion in full. They say, however, that they believe it will be found that a free construction of the rulings involved in the opinion will admit of more concessions to North Carolina shippers than newspaper reports have indicated.

WANTS FIGURES HELD BACK.
Norfolk Anxious for Annexation Before Census Is Announced.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., July 10.—The Board of Trade will take up with the Census Department the question of withholding the official statement of the census of the city of Norfolk until the annexation of Huntersville and Lambert's Point is completed, which will be a matter of only two or three weeks, and which will be presented to the population of the city.

These two suburbs are separated from the incorporated city only by streets, and are, in fact, outlying districts of the city, properly considered. It is conceded that there will be no fight against the annexation of Huntersville, as it is so near the populous Fourth Ward and a menace to the health of the city, but there will be a fight against it on the part of Lambert's Point. It is true, however, that the majority of the residents want to come in the city.

NAMED ON 50TH BALLOT.

H. E. Shaw Nominated for Solicitor of Fifth District.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Wilmington, N. C., July 10.—After being in a deadlock with continuous balloting night and day since Friday noon, the Fifth North Carolina Judicial District Convention adjourned at midnight last night, with the nomination of H. E. Shaw, of Kinston, N. C., on the 50th ballot for solicitor, defeating Hamilton D. Williams, of Duplin, and H. A. Grady, of Sampson, the latter having withdrawn a few hours before the nomination.

Will Enforce Speed Laws.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., July 10.—Judge W. P. Staples, of the Corporation Court, has issued an order to the Roanoke Police Department that in the future all persons caught exceeding the automobile speed law are to be arrested on the spot and carried to headquarters, and they must give bail or be locked up. In the past, automobilists arrested have been summoned and allowed to go without being carried to headquarters.
